19. (Currently Amended). The ~~Tile-Cap~~ tile cap of Claim 1 wherein the said Tile-Cap tile cap is applied to a surface without grout.

20. (Currently Amended). The ~~Tile-Cap~~ tile cap of Claim 1 wherein the said Tile-Cap tile cap has a trimable knife edge.

21. (Currently Amended). A method of using capping ceramic tile comprising: providing a Tile-Cap tile cap comprising:

- a. a formed or molded article which fits over a surface of an existing tile surface, the article including a first surface and a second surface, oppositely disposed from each other, the first surface and the second surface, and including at least one edge defined by the convergence of the second surface toward the first surface, the at least one edge configured for conforming with a corresponding edge of the existing tile; and
- b. an adhesive in communication with the second surface of the tile cap; and wherein said Tile-Cap is positioned positioning the tile cap over an existing ceramic tile.

22. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 21 wherein the said Tile-Cap tile cap is selected from the group consisting of a plastic or resin article.

23. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 21 wherein said Tile-Cap the positioning the tile cap includes affixing the tile cap is affixed to the existing ceramic tile with a foam double sided foam tape.

24. (Currently Amended). A method of capping using a Tile tile, Cap- comprising: providing a -Cap tile cap comprising:

- a. a formed or molded article which fits over the surface of an existing tile surface, the article including a first surface and a second surface, oppositely disposed from each other, the first surface and the second surface, and including at least one edge defined by the convergence of the second surface toward the first surface, the at least one edge configured for conforming with a corresponding edge of the existing tile; and

- b. an adhesive in communication with the second surface of selected to adhere to the Tile Cap tile cap; and wherein said Tile Cap is positioned positioning the tile cap over an existing tile surface.

25. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 24 wherein said Tile Cap tile cap is selected from the group consisting of a plastic or a resin article.

26. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 24 wherein said Tile Cap is affixed the positioning the tile cap includes affixing the tile cap to the existing tile surface with a foam double-sided foam tape.

27. (Currently Amended). A method of using a Tile Cap wherein said Tile Cap is capping tile with a germicidal Tile Cap tile cap, comprising:
providing a germicidal tile cap comprising:

- a. a formed or molded article which fits over the surface of an existing tile, the article including a first surface and a second surface, oppositely disposed from each other, the first surface and the second surface, and including at least one edge defined by the convergence of the second surface toward the first surface, the at least one edge configured for conforming with a corresponding edge of the existing tile; and
- b. an adhesive in communication with the second surface of the tile cap; and positioning the germicidal tile cap over an existing tile to provide provides a resulting germicidal surface.

28. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 27 wherein said Tile Cap the existing tile includes ceramic tile and the positioning the germicidal tile cap includes affixing the germicidal tile cap is affixed to an the existing ceramic tile with a foam double-sided foam tape.

29. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 27 wherein said Tile Cap the positioning the existing tile cap includes affixing the germicidal tile cap is affixed to an the existing flat tile surface with a foam double-sided foam tape.

30. (Currently Amended). A method of using a Tile Cap wherein said Tile Cap is a bacteriostatic Tile Cap tile cap comprising:

providing a bacteriostatic tile cap comprising:

- a. a formed or molded article which fits over the surface of an existing tile, the article including a first surface and a second surface, oppositely disposed from each other, the first surface and the second surface, and including at least one edge defined by the convergence of the second surface toward the first surface, the at least one edge configured for conforming with a corresponding edge of the existing tile; and
- b. an adhesive in communication with the second surface of the tile cap; and positioning the bacteriostatic tile cap over an existing tile to provide provides a resulting bacteriostatic surface.

31. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 30 wherein ~~said Tile Cap is affixed~~ the positioning the bacteriostatic tile cap includes affixing the bacteriostatic tile cap to an existing ceramic tile with a ~~foam~~ double-sided foam tape.

32. (Currently Amended). The method of Claim 30 wherein ~~said Tile Cap is affixed~~ the positioning the bacteriostatic tile cap includes affixing the bacteriostatic tile cap to an existing ~~flat surface tile~~ tile with a ~~foam~~ double-sided foam tape.
